

SIRS Discoverer®

Safe, kid-friendly online learning resources

Opening a World of Information

Curious minds deserve the best tools available in order to develop research, writing, language, and computer skills. SIRS Discoverer makes it easy with its user-friendly online resources.

The colorful interface is intuitive so it's easy to use, even for inexperienced or young users. Using the topic and keyword search and result summaries make Discoverer the safe choice for the online experience.

But Discoverer is much more than a pretty interface. With a single click, users gain access to information from around the world. There are over 1,900 magazines, newspapers, and reference books; 10,000 approved websites; and 30,000 colorful graphics, photos, and maps—all carefully selected for content, appropriateness, and readability.

Multiple search methods like topic tree, keyword, and subject make it easy to find relevant information

SIRS Discoverer includes training resources and materials for librarians and young researchers

The Tools Early Researchers Need

SIRS Discoverer's easy-to-use search interface allows users to uncover the resources they need to complete homework assignments and explore their latest interests:

- Reference essentials like encyclopedias, dictionaries, and almanacs
- Geography and cultural resources, covering over 200 countries and thousands of maps
- Biography and career information, organized by name and profession
- Science materials that support real-world applications
- Study and homework help tools, including how-to's, pathfinders, and graphic organizers

After searching, early researchers can sort their results by relevance or date, then view, print, save, or email documents in one step.
